

Profile

Commissioner Marian Sia Nyuma-Moijueh was born on 25 September 1958, in Luawa Chiefdom, Kailahun District. She is married to Sandy Moijueh, a retired Principal of Nasir Ahmadiyya Muslim Secondary School, Kenema and blessed with three children.

Commissioner Nyuma-Moijueh attended the St Charles Luanga R C Primary school, Kenema and later Holy Rosary Secondary School, Kenema. She also went to the Freetown Secondary School for Girls (FSSG) and later pursued her sixth form at the St. Edwards Secondary School, Freetown. She proceeded to the Milton Margai Teachers College, Goderich, Freetown, and later Fourah Bay College (FBC) University of Sierra Leone. She holds Bachelor's Degree in Sociology & Linguistics and Certificate and Diploma in Adult Education.

Commissioner Nyuma-Moijueh taught for many years at the Independence Memorial Secondary School in Freetown and later at the Nasir Ahmadiyya Muslim Secondary School in Kenema.

Commissioner Nyuma-Moijueh served as a news correspondent at the Talking Drum Studios. She worked at the Lutheran World Federation for World Service as gender officer and later deputy camp manager at the Tobanda Refugee Camp in Kenema District.

Commissioner Nyuma-Moijueh also worked at the National Social Security and Insurance Trust (NASSIT) as inspector and benefit officer and later deputy regional manager in Kenema until her retirement in 2018.

Before her appointment as an Electoral Commissioner, Mrs Nyuma-Moijueh served in so many Institutions and Boards including: The Holy Rosary Secondary School in Kenema as Chairman; Network Movement for Justice and Development (NMJD) as Chairman; CARITAS-SL in Kenema as Board Member and Guma Valley Water Company in Freetown as member Board of Directors.

Commissioner Nyuma-Moijueh is an entrepreneur and proprietor of the Fatma-Pee Guest House and SANSIA Enterprises, a private investment, dealing in general goods & services in Kenema.